Description of the application

PLEXIGLAS® Satinice tubes were part of a major renovation on an award winning eatery in Indianapolis, IN that helped transform the century-old historic building into a trendy restaurant and lounge.

The use of PLEXIGLAS® Satinice tubes helped management make incredible interior design updates and changes that transformed the mood and atmosphere of the restaurant. It was part of an overall renovation project that helped continue the revitalization of the district in which the Scholars Inn is located. Working closely with the Indianapolis Historical Commission, restaurant management was able to maintain the exterior integrity of the century-old landmark building while giving the inside a new modern look.
